

The Virginia Film Festival presents

Hard Road Home (2007)

Saturday Nov. 3 at 4:15pm (Regal 3)
with Macky Alston

Four out of ten released convicts will be reincarcerated within six months. Faith-based groups such as Exodus Transitional Community, founded by ex-con Julio Medina, are doing good work to help former prisoners reintegrate into free society. More than ordinary social services, this organization provides a caring community and teaches skills needed to survive "on the outside." This heartbreaking and inspiring documentary.

Tickets: $6
